These two men were moved to Washington State Park. This cemetery on the outskirts of the town of Washington On The Brazos is an unkempt jungle surrounded by the remains of a barbed wire fence, except for the part next to the county road which is being used by Black residents of the area. Within its confines are the remains of some of Washington County's oldest families and best families. It is located about a quarter of a mile north of Washington off of FM1155 on Washington Cemetery Road.
