A small cemetery behind the Baptist Church in Greenvine, Texas. The Greenvine Baptist Church, formerly known as Ebenezer German Baptist Church, was organized in 1861, following a revival preached by Frank Kiefer (1833-1909), a German immigrant and convert to the Baptist Faith. The congregation first met in a log cabin owned by Michael Moller. The Rev. F. J. Gleiss (1826-1912), a former Methodist minister and fellow German immigrant, succeeded Kiefer as pastor in 1868. Services were conducted in the German language until replaced by English in 1947. The acreage for the new church site was purchased in 1870 and the Sanctuary was built in 1879. The Greenvine Baptist Cemetery site was set aside for burial of church members and their families. The first recorded burial in Greenvine Baptist Cemetery was June 10, 1930. Deaths prior to, and some after 1930, are buried in neighboring Bethlehem, La Bahia, Latium, Union, and Prairie Lea Cemetery in Brenham.
